

Appraiser Blog

The World's Most Expensive Classic Cars

By Tony Rached

The World's Most Expensive Classic Cars

Friday, August 25, 2023

The world of classic cars is a mysterious and exclusive one, where only the very wealthy can afford to play. And when it comes to the most expensive cars in the world, the prices are truly astronomical.

Here is a list of the top 5 most expensive cars ever sold:

1. Mercedes-Benz 300 SLR Uhlenhaut Coupé

(2022): $142.5 million (£114.4 million)

This rare and exclusive car is one of only two ever made. It was designed as a road-going version of the W 196 R grand prix car, and it is powered by a 3.0-liter straight-eight engine that can reach speeds of up to 180 mph. The 300 SLR Uhlenhaut Coupé was sold at auction in May 2022, setting a new world record for the most expensive car ever sold.

Appraiser Blog

2. Ferrari 250 GTO

(2018): $70 million (£52.3 million)

One of the most classical and in-demand cars in the world, the Ferrari 250 GTO, was produced in limited numbers between 1962 and 1964, and it is a highly successful racing car, having won numerous races, including the 24 Hours of Le Mans. The 250 GTO is also known for its elegant and timeless design.

3. Ferrari 250 GTO

(2014): $38.1 million (£30.7 million)

Another 250 GTO, this car is also one of the most valuable and desirable classic cars in the world. It has a long and illustrious racing history, and it is said to be one of the best-preserved examples of the model.

4. Ferrari 335 Sport Scaglietti

(2016): $35.7 million (£28.8 million)

This Ferrari is a rare and important racing car. It was one of only two built, and it was raced by some of the greatest drivers of the era, including Peter Collins and Wolfgang von Trips. The 335 Sport Scaglietti is a highly desirable car, and it fetched a record price when it was sold at auction in 2016.

5. Mercedes-Benz W196

(2013): $29.6 million (£23.8 million)

This Mercedes Grand Prix car is one of the most important and successful racing cars of all time. It was driven by Juan Manuel Fangio, who won the world championship in it in 1954. The W196 is a highly prized collector's item, and it set a record price when it was sold at auction in 2013.

Appraiser Blog

These are just some examples of the most high-priced cars in the world. The prices of these cars are truly staggering, but they are a testament to the rarity and desirability of these classic vehicles.

Check out our blog to be updated on the latest automotive news: Appraiser Blog